Fresno American Indian Health Project

Dear Friends,

Fresno American Indian Health Project (FAIHP) is excited to announce our annual fundraising Car Show! Our “Native Days Car and Bike Show”, Health and Resource Fair will be held on November 18, 2023. This fundraiser will go towards Scholarships for Native American students and will be utilized for Charity Care.

Fresno American Indian Health Project (FAIHP) is a non-profit 501c3 and we service the Urban Native American population in the City of Fresno and surrounding areas. Fresno American Indian Health Project services members of over 75 different tribes who live within our service area.

Today, we are reaching out to our partners, community organizations, and local businesses for support. Through your generous donations of sponsorships or merchandise, FAIHP will have the ability to give back to the community in the form of scholarships to those who are striving for academic excellence.

Statistics from the California Department of Education show that Native American students had the lowest graduation percentage among other ethnic and racial groups in Fresno and Clovis Unified School Districts for the 2020-21 school year. In 2020-21 school year, 78% of Native American students graduated from Fresno Unified School District and 83% of Native American students graduated from Clovis Unified School District (DataQuest California Department of Education, 2021).

Our goal is to continue to support our youth and community and for the first time offer educational scholarships as well as assist with charity care.

Your support of the vision of the Fresno American Indian Health Project is very deeply appreciated. If you have any questions, concerns or just want more details about this organization, please contact us at 559-320-0490.
